Old Covered Bridge Demolished

Served Community for Nearly a Century

The old covered bridge spanning the Little Androscoggin River in Oxford has been demolished. The bridge, which served the community for nearly a century, was in poor condition and was a hazard to traffic. The demolition was completed on Friday, July 17, 1933. The bridge was built in 1833 and was one of the oldest covered bridges in the state. It was a popular landmark and a source of pride for the community.

LAWRENCE-FROST

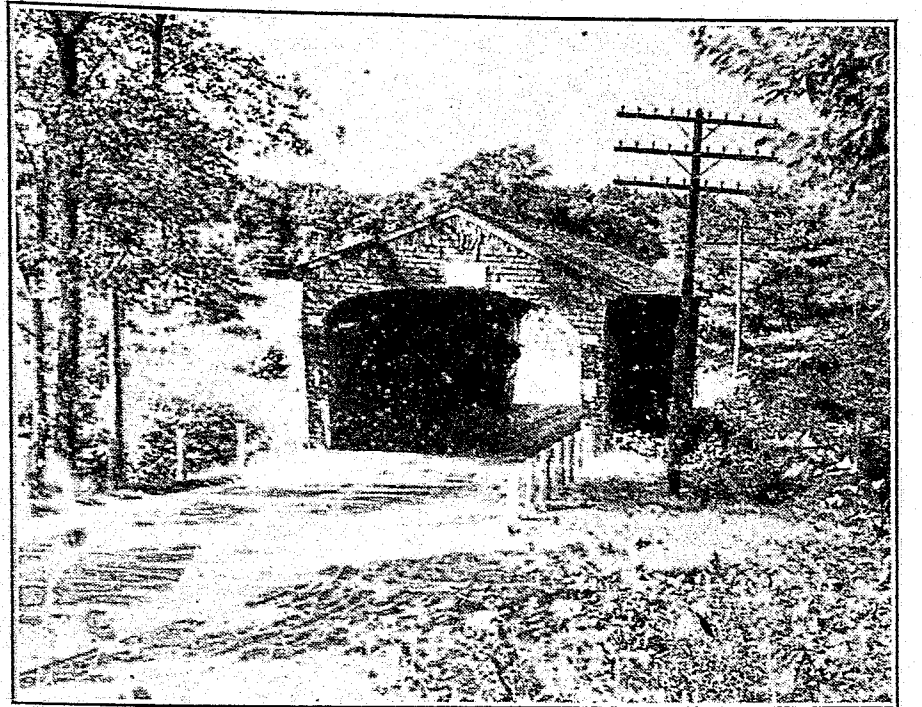

Perhaps one of the prettiest weddings of the season was the one that took place on Thursday, June 29. Under the quiet spell of the noon hour, and the shady secret pine bowers, the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Lyon, pastor of the church, officiated, and the double ring service. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Lawrence, and the groom was Mr. Frost. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests were treated to a delicious reception. The bride and groom are now residing in their new home.

BARTLETT-NOYES

The wedding of Miss Jessie Eugenie Noyes and Fred William Bartlett, both of Norway, took place in the Norway Methodist Episcopal Church, on Sunday, July 16, 1933. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Lyon, pastor of the church, officiated, and the double ring service. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Noyes, and the groom was Mr. Bartlett. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests were treated to a delicious reception. The bride and groom are now residing in their new home.

BURGESS-MCKAY

Leon W. Burgess of South Paris and Miss Helen E. McKay of Norway were married in Norway, Maine, on Friday, July 14, 1933. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Lyon, pastor of the church, officiated, and the double ring service. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. McKay, and the groom was Mr. Burgess. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests were treated to a delicious reception. The bride and groom are now residing in their new home.

The New Bank

There is nothing of importance to report. When the National Examiner made his investigation on June 29th, he found that his report would be promptly forwarded to Washington and that matters would have to take their course. A delay of about three weeks generally followed before word was received that the charter has been granted. People are interested in the bank, at most daily inquiries are received in person or by letter asking when it will be open for business. They are planning to open accounts with the money released from the closed Chase Mercantile Trust Company and Fidelity Trust Company. A new bank with no bad loans, no slow mortgages and no bad investments, operated under the supervision of the United States Government and a member of the Federal Reserve System seems to have inspired them with confidence. The list of shareholders and the officers they selected has inspired confidence and the confidence of a new era to break the stagnant business situation seems not far away.

Pine Tree League

Norway-Paris team won a tight game at Lisbon Falls, 5-3, the morning of July Fourth. Each club scored in their first inning with N. & P. in the lead until the fifth inning. Lisbon made two runs and tied the game. N. & P. scored one across in the sixth and ninth and won the narrow lead.

Tax Money

Fifteen hundred dollars was the response the past week and the advance payments are helping the town over a rough spot. Disinfectants have been allowed the past eight weeks and many tax payers are taking advantage of the opportunity to save a little money. Payments have reached collector Robt. F. Bickford to the grand total of $13,089.03 and every dollar is appreciated. Through this promptness of the tax payers, Norway has kept up its payroll and returned real money in the place of I. O. U's. Keep up the payments. Enter a single dollar is acceptable. Each payment reduces the individual's tax bill and acts the coin in circulation to help some other chap.

Whitmans at St. Andrews

See Roosevelt

(From Laconia News and Critic)

St. Andrews, New Brunswick, the home town of Mrs. V. M. Whitman, wife of Headmaster Whitman of the Laconia High school, was all agog last week when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the first lady of the United States, paid a surprise call. Mrs. Whitman who with her husband is spending a few weeks in St. Andrews before they go to their cottage near Norway, Me., was the first to greet the first lady. Mrs. Whitman's letter follows:

Dear Laconia Evening Citizen:

Just because you are one of my treasured dairies, I feel compelled to write and tell you of the great thrill which I experienced yesterday when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President of the United States, visited our little country town for a few hours; bought a few things, and then, to my surprise, what not from our little country stores and after completing her shopping tour walked alone and unattended down the long pier leading to the landing where her boat, (a small motor) lay in waiting. Being informed by an old friend of Mrs. Roosevelt's that Mrs. Roosevelt was in town, but was soon to leave, I hastened to find "Our First Lady." This was not hard to do as looking up the street I saw that little group had begun to gather on the sidewalk, and I was peering into shop windows. Heads were popping out of store doors, looking up then down the street.

Every one seemed thrilled and full of expectancy.

I located Mrs. Roosevelt in a cottage crafts store where hand-woven blankets, pottery made from native clay, and many other souvenirs are sold. Many "snaps" were taken of Mrs. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt very graciously consented to autograph little Miss Betty Dunbar's new book. She wrote "Eleanor Roosevelt."

The name of the motor boat which Mrs. Roosevelt uses is Scaramouch.

Captain P. H. Caldwell, a native of Campbell, and named after our President, constitutes the crew.

Mrs. Roosevelt wore an Eleanor blue swimsuit with blue belt to match sport shoes, gun metal stockings, no gloves.

As the Scaramouch left the pier, Mrs. Roosevelt looked up to those who had gathered about, waved her hand in farewell, while she bestowed one of her rarest smiles.

With graciousness and sweet cordiality she bestowed one of her rarest smiles. The hearts of the people of St. Andrews.

Sincerely yours,

MOLLIE WREN WHITMAN

Mrs. Bessie Wiers of Lynn, Mass.

is a guest of Miss Emma J. Smith at her cottage, Tanglewood, at Lake Penesseewassee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews and son, George of Augusta are in town for several days, guests of Mrs. Andrews' sister, Mrs. James N. Farrow.

CHAS. H. NOBLE

Chas. H. Noble of Santa Clara, Calif., passed away at his home at Santa Clara June 23, after a several weeks illness with intercurrent neuralgia, followed by a coma of forty-eight hours duration.

Mr. Noble was born in Lawrence, Mass.

Aug. 17, 1858, son of Benj. H. and Fannie Frost Noble; six weeks after his birth the family moved to the old home of his great grandfather, Benjamin Flint, at Northwest Norway, birthplace of his father and grandfather.

At the age of twelve, he family moved to the home of his great grandfather, Benjamin Flint, at Northwest Norway, birthplace of his father and grandfather.

At the death of his grandfather, Noble, the family moved west to Illinois, where his father engaged in business with Mr. Blake, formerly of Norway. The family moved west again to America, Kansas, in 1899, where his mother passed away in 1871.

In 1874, after the grasshopper plagues in Kansas, the family returned to Maine.

Mr. Noble, after he married Flora Merrill, daughter of Charles and Amanda Merrill. For a time after his marriage he worked in the Evans Rife factory of that town, later moving to Portland and obtained employment in the drug store of Holt and Whitney, on Congress St., where he studied and obtained his certificate as registered apothecary, leaving there for a time to engage in farming on a farm owned jointly with his step-mother, Shedd Noble, at Empire Road, East Poland, on Worthy Brook Pond. The Harris Hill road, close to there to conduct the Noyes Drug Store until 1888 for the widow of A. Oscar Noyes, later purchasing the Fliz store, next to the E. P. Evans factory, where he conducted a successful business for two years, moving to Los Gatos, Calif., due to the ill health of his father, Benj. Noble, who had recently completed a term in the Legislature.

In California he engaged with the Tuttle Drug Store at Pacific Grove, later purchasing a store in Santa Cruz. After his father's failing health, he moved to Los Gatos and joined him in the insurance and real estate business, conducting a successful business for many years.

Mr. Noble engaged in wheat raising at Tulare in the San Joaquin Valley with Gilbert Upton, formerly of Norway. His later years spent on ranch property, and ties of various kinds in the Santa Clara and Sacramento Valleys, owning at one time 10,000 acres in Mexico which was confiscated during the Villa Insurrection.

The last twenty years of his life, he was forced by ill health to confine his activities to overseeing his properties in Los Gatos and around San Jose and Arcadia, Calif. His life was prolonged many years by the tender and watchful care of his beloved wife, Flora, they having observed their 55th wedding anniversary May 1st, 1933.

Mr. Noble joined the Methodist Church at Mechanic Falls as a young man. In Norway he was an officer in the K. of P. Lodge at Santa Cruz for many years.

He leaves his widow, Flora Merrill Noble, Santa Clara, Calif.; two sisters, P. Etta Harriman, Ventura, Calif.; Mrs. Bertha H. Cordes, Santa Clara, Cal. Three nieces: Miss Anna Mae Cordes, Santa Clara, Cal.; Mrs. Harry W. Davis, Boston, Mass.; and Mrs. Kenneth Cordage, Woodford, Maine and three nephews: Arthur L. Harriman, Norway; Henry O. Harriman, Glenn, Elyria, Ill.; and Mrs. E. E. Harriman, Santa Clara, Cal., and nine great nephews and nieces.

Services were held at San Jose, Calif., June 26 and interment was beside his father and step-mother at Los Gatos, Calif. The burial was very simple. Mr. Noble was a friend of many friends, and his death was a great loss to the community.

Charles (Buddy) Huff, U. S. A. was at home for the holiday from Fort Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. True are spending the summer at their summer home at East Steneham.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Brown of Bangor are in town for a few weeks with Mrs. Edna Hampton were Fourth of July guests of Sara Brown.

"Come and Live in Maine"

An interesting phase of the state advertising campaign is in progress. At that time we had no idea that the seed we were planting would fall on such fertile ground that it would result in a 21-mile project as has now been developed. It is a new project of the American Legion Posts and the Chambers of Commerce at Bar Harbor and Ellsworth and shows what can be accomplished when people of alert minds and of practical get-together and decide to do something.

We were particularly interested to read that the Federal Government were to call this "A demonstration project in highway beautification" because we hope that by example it will prove to be the beginning of many similar projects throughout the State. One opportunity which we particularly have in mind is the probability of the 6-mile stretch of practically new highway which will eventually, if not this year, be rebuilt between Brunswick and Bath. The engineers survey shows a new right-of-way for much of the entire distance and with a new right-of-way on which to work, much can be accomplished to make that highway attractive to our summer visitors and at the same time draw favorable attention to these two cities.
